Lydiksen voted head of Zone 7

LIVERMORE — George Lydiksen last night was elected chairman of the board of directors of Zone 7, Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District. Robert Pearson was chosen as vice chairman, and Richard Ryon was elected board secretary.

The three victors in the June 8 election, Archer Futch, Ed Kinney and Gib Marguth, were officially installed as members of the board of directors.

In chosing Lydiksen, the board by-passed Pearson, who, as the only returning board officer had been in line for the chairmanship. It was Pearson who swore in the new directors last night.

Lydiksen was nominated for the chairmanship by Kinney and seconded by Marguth.

Before a vote was taken Ryon quizzed Lydiksen on his past attendance and asked whether he would be able to fulfill the commitments of the chairmanship.

Lydiksen defended his record, stating that he had missed only two regular meetings last year.

Lydiksen was elected by a 6 to 1 vote. Only Ryon opposed him.

Assuming his new post, Lydiksen thanked the board for its confidence, adding that he hopes before the end of the year he would have Ryon's confidence too.

"I am a firm believer that Zone 7 is the device that can do the most good for the valley," said Lydiksen.

"I worry about split boards and split votes," he said. "I believe that communication has been the biggest problem for Zone 7 from both the standpoint of the board and the staff."

Lydiksen said he thinks polarization is wrong and said he would work to insure that the zone's function as a close group for the good of the valley.

"I only ask to start off with all your cooperation," he said.

Futch nominated Pearson as vice chairman, seconded by Marguth. Pearson was elected unanimously.

The nominations for secretary were opened by Pearson who offered Ryon's name. Joseph Concannon seconded the motion which passed unaimously. It is the zone chairman's prerogative to make committee appointments. Last night Lydiksen asked each director to openly state his preferences.

Each director will serve on three committees, and will chair one of them.

The newly installed directors showed a preference for the zone's most controversial assignments: The water and waste water committees.

Marguth, Kinney and Futch asked to be appointed to the waste water committee, along with Ryon who served as a committee member last year.

Pearson, Concannon, Marguth, Kinney and Futch all requested appointment to the water committee.

Appointments to the finance committee were finalized last night. Ryon, Marguth and Lydiksen will serve on that committee. The first business will be a reorganization of the zone's financial reporting method.

Trustees eye teaching VP's in Pleasanton

PLEASANTON —Teaching vice principals, a matter of survival or luxury?

Pleasanton School District trustees reviewed the oft-debated teaching vice principal program last night but put off a final decision in its place on the 1976-77 program until a July 19th discussion on budget cuts.

But reports and commentary by board members indicated TVP's would be on the roster when school reopens in September. Some $60,536 has been projected for the administrator - teacher positions for 1976-1977, a whopping $24,000 more than 1975-1976.

If the TVP program survives budget cuts (it was a third level project for cutting) it would be in vogue in all seven district schools. During the past year, only Harvest Park did not have a TVP.

Tom Zach, president of the Amador Valley Teachers Association, reiterated the group's opposition to the concept, terming it a luxury that could be better used by funneling monies directly into the education program.

This drew a rebuke from Jim Scott, now principal at Valley View School, who termed the program in some respects a matter of survival. Scott, earlier, reviewed TVP duties at the K-5 level.

Dale Hudson, principal at Harvest Park, reviewed the duties of the one TVP at the middle grade schools, Ron Dell Immagine. The latter will be taking an assistant principal position at San Jose Junior High School in Novato. He was selected from 75 applicants.

Thus, TVP positions are open at both Pleasanton and Harvest Park.

In other business, trustees heard an evaluation report for categorical aid programs and adopted a resolution on the Miller - Unruh kindergarten program.

Amador Dist. will abandon Chicken Alley

A proposal from a San Francisco land management firm may be forthcoming as the Amador Valley Joint High School District has decided to part with a 40-acre school site on Sycamore Road, purchased 10 years ago.

Amador trustees Tuesday night directed Doug Rose, assistant superintendent for business services, to secure a proposal for review at the July 19 meeting of the board.

The site, located in Pleasanton's "Chicken Alley," has no water or sewer connections and would have to have a surrounding high school age population of approximately 1,000 students before consideration could be given to building on the site.

No such indications are projected.

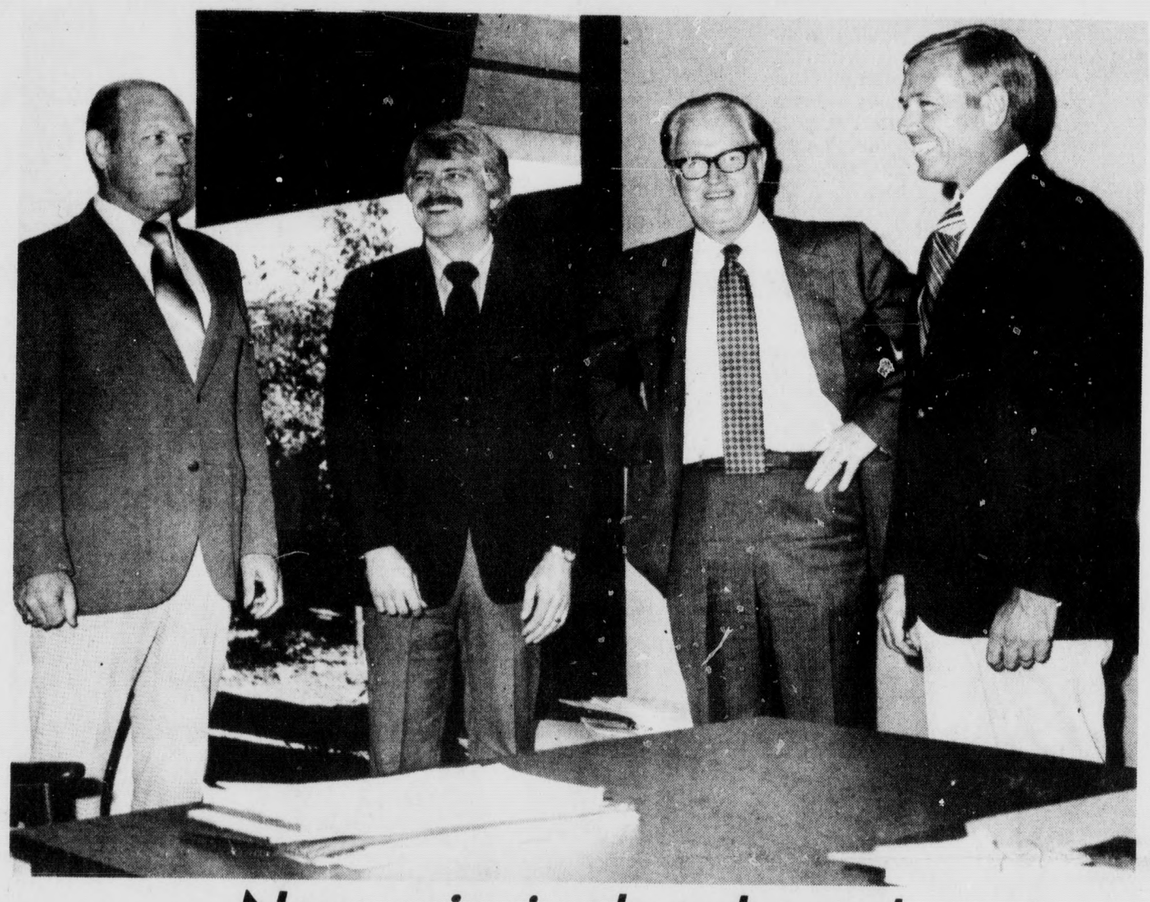
The discussion followed that of the Amador Valley High library addition project. Rose informed trustees the project is now estimated to cost $215,000, or $65,000 more than originally budgeted for almost three years ago.

Rose said some $25,000 of the $150,000 had already been expended on architect fees. Even with approximately $60,000 added in from a one-time "windfall" the district is expecting, the project as it is now planned could not be fulfilled.

Square footage of the proposed addition is 50 by 50 feet ... down 10x10 from original plans because of cost increases.

Rose was directed to contact architect Ron Martyn toward the end of further cutting the project, and having Martyn present at the July 19 meeting.

Trustees also agreed to make initial decisions on budget cuts (which could include busing and freshmen athletics) on the 19th.



New principal on board

Richard Carroll, right, has taken over reins as the third principal of Foothill High School. He officially assumed the role July 1. Greeting him to the post are left, assistant principals Bob Hill and Clark Thayne, and former principal Don Landers. Carroll was formerly principal of Indio High School in the Desert Sands Unified School District of Southern California. (Times photo)

Mori, farmers take first step in closing 'philosophical' gap

LIVERMORE — Assemblyman Floyd Mori met with county farmers Thursday night at a meeting of the Alameda County Farm Bureau Board of Directors to "open up some channels of communication that didn't exist before."

In a two-hour session Mori talked with the farmers about various aspects of the farm labor law and explained his position on the Agricultural Labor Relations Board.

Mori said he will oppose the United Farm Workers Union Initiative which recently qualified for the November ballot on the grounds that the current law is more effective.

"Under the existing law we can work to resolve problems, and the initiative might pose more problems than it solves," Mori said.

The initiative is opposed by the farmers.

Mori also explained his stand on AB 15, the bill that designates certain lands as prime agricultural lands and restricts their use to agriculture only.

"I told the farmers I would give it limited support," Mori said. "The farmers are concerned about the tax rates on non-prime lands and about what it will do to their property rights."

Mori said he voted for the bill when it went through the Assembly because of assurances from the bill's author that certain amendments would be made to Mori's satisfaction.

The bill will be voted upon by the Senate this month. If it passes it will return to the Assembly for concurrence around Aug. 1.

"I assured the farmers that I would not concur unless amendments were made to meet the opposition of the majority of agriculture interests in the valley," Mori said.

Joe Perry, Alameda County Farm Bureau president, called the meeting "generally constructive." He commended the assemblyman for his efforts to increase communication between the farmers and the legislature.

Said First Vice-President A.M. Hagemann, a Livermore farmer, "At this time we share very little common grounds with Assemblyman Mori. However, I feel through subsequent meetings we can come to agreement on certain issues."

"I think it was a productive general discussion," said Mori. "It was heated at times because there are some basic differences in philosophy. But I think we all left respecting our differences."

The assemblyman said he felt the discussion had "opened up some channels of communication that didn't exist before." He offered to meet with the farmers at their invitation as often as they'd like to discuss farm legislation.

Sewer expansion subsidy granted

PLEASANTON — Valley Community Services District got an important green light to expand its sewage treatment plant to 8.3 million gallons per day and help the city solve its sewer woes.

The State Water Quality Control Board wrote the city and VCSD recently that it will offer a combined federal and state subsidy of 87.5 per cent to expand the VCSD plant by 2.3 mgd.

That addition to the VCSD plant will be only for phaseout of the Sunol Sewage Treatment Plant in Pleasanton and growth in its related areas over the next 10 years, according to Gil Wheeler of the SRWB.

VCSD won't be getting any grant at all because the state feels that if the LAVWMA pipeline is built, the VCSD plant will be able to expand from 4 mgd to 6 mgd without adding a thing. The reason is that the LAVWMA pipeline will allow VCSD to give less treatment to the effluent and therefore handle more of it.

In effect, it means that the VCSD areas will be able to grow faster than the EO growth rate, if Pleasanton and Alameda County allow it, but the Sunol Sewer Plant areas must grow at the EO rate, said Wheeler. The EO rate is an Environmental Protection Agency term for natural community growth without any immigrant increase.

There had been criticism from the valley's slow - growth camp that an expansion to 8 mgd at VCSD would open the floodgates to fast growth. However, Pleasanton is on record as favoring the EO rate for the development of the entire city.

VCSD will need only 5 mgd of the 6 mgd for its total growth, which will leave it with a spare 1 mgd, according to VCSD director Lila Euler. The Times asked Wheeler why the state didn't keep the Pleasanton funding to 1 3 mgd in light of VCSD's spare million.

"That 'extra' 1 mgd is VCSD's capacity and we couldn't take it away from them," said Wheeler. "The grant is solely for the Sunol plant phaseout and related growth."

The city and VCSD are expected to work out a consolidation of the VCSD plant, with costs of maintenance pro - rated according to percentage of use, said Wheeler.

The grant will be the only grant the city will get for the sewer situation, he said. The state's philosophy is to help localities catch up; then they are on their own and expected to finance further expansion locally, probably through sewer connections, said Wheeler. The grant also will include funding for an interceptor line from the Sunol sewer service area to the VCSD plant and a pumping station on the line. None of the old plant will be needed in the new pumping station - interceptor line setup, said Wheeler.

Pleasanton, Dublin linked on park map

Growth in the Valley has bounced Pleasanton, Sunol and the surrounding countryside from one East Bay Regional Park District ward into another.

A major redistricting effort just completed by EBRPD secretary Harold Luhtala with the supervision of a committee of EBRPD board members has moved the Valley communities into Ward 3 where they join Dublin, San Ramon, Castro Valley and San Lorenzo.

Previously, Pleasanton was lumped with Hayward, Union City, Newark and Fremont in Ward 5.

The change was an unhappy one for Dr. Howard Cogswell, the Cal State, Hayward, professor who represents Ward 5 and who found enthusiastic support from Pleasanton.

The Ward 3 representative is William Jardin of San Leandro, who serves as board treasurer and works at Pacific Telephone in Castro Valley.

"It was absolutely necessary," a sympathetic Luhtala says of the redistricting. "Ward 5 had 177,000 eligible voters in it."

Now, each ward has 138,800 to 149,100 eligible voters. (According to federal regulations, eligible, not necessarily registered voters must be counted for redistricting.

Luhtala also noted a high number of young families living in the Valley, with a potential wave of new eligible voters coming when all the children grow up.

The last time EBRPD contemplated redistricting was two years ago, when they looked at some 1970 census figures.

This time, Luhtala used county planning department statistics as well as figures from chambers of commerce and other sources.

"And everyone seemed to have a different figure," he said wearily.

He admitted to taking the chamber of commerce figures with a grain of salt, since most of them seemed a shade higher than everyone else's.

The next review will probably come after the 1980 census provides a fresh set of facts.

Luhtala's many redistricting proposals were reviewed by three board members in executive committee meetings before the current plan was finally approved.

Neither Cogswell nor Jardin is up for re - election in November, although four of their colleagues are.

The Ward 3 and Ward 5 representatives were elected to four - year terms in August, 1974.

However, local voters may write to their representatives at any time — EBRPD headquarters is at 11500 Skyline Blvd., Oakland, 94619.

The Strike's been bad for business

Some valley businesses, especially food and drink emporiums in Pleasanton, will not soon forget July of 1976!

It'll be remembered as the month the horses didn't run at the County Fair, the "carnies" had less to spend and empty stools and rooms abounded.

The first two weeks in July historically is a thriving period for restaurant, bar and motel operations in and around Pleasanton. But not this year.

And other satellite businesses have been hurt, too.

Leon Holliday, manager of Christesen's on Main Street in Pleasanton, claims the western outfitters are losing an average $1,000 a day.

The centrally-located store is headquarters for horsemen needing halters, patent medicines, buckets, feeding tubs and night sheets. They also ... normally ... do a big business in shirt and pants sales.

With Christesen's since 1966, Holliday reflected what Werner Schober, owner of a bar and card room farther down Main, had said moments earlier.

"How's business? In a word it's plain lousy," a frustrated Schober replied.

Holliday had suspected local firms "were going to be hurt" when the county employees struck and pickets appeared at Fairgrounds gates.

Sadly, it has all come true.

Business at the Green Door, one of the popular spots for horsemen and carnies during the Fair season, was estimated down by 50 per cent.

Schober said carnival regulars had only been in a couple of days. He said his bar business was down about $100 a day and "the card room traffic is even worse."

Howard Johnson's in Dublin, which has been in operation 2½ years, has felt the drop in attendance not only in its occupancy rate but in the restaurant and bar, the latter two areas managed by Ronald Marovich.

Where the racing crowd normally drifted in about 9 p.m., Maronow sees empty booths and stools — a drop - off in business of between 10 and 15 per cent.

Those contacted at the Red Gable and Wagon Wheel, both on Pleasanton's Main Street, were not as certain about the loss in business. A bar tender at the Red Gable opined that the lower Fair crowds may have hurt the card room.

"Our patronage has been steady," commented the Wagon Wheel's manager. I owned a liquor store at the other end of town at this time last year so don't really know. But, from what people tell me, this bar was packed just about every night during last year's Fair."

Also "hurting" in varying degrees are operations at Pleasanton Foods and the renowned Pleasanton Hotel.

A spokesman at the former estimated business off about 25 per cent. "We're getting a fair amount of carnival people through the store but they're not spending as much because they're not taking in as much."

Meanwhile, Fair officials have apparently decided to go down to the final day as far as scheduling horse racing. A request by the Sonoma County Fair to start racing Friday, instead of Monday, has apparently been nixed.

Racing is off again today, leaving two more on the schedule.

The crowd count hit its lowest ebb since a week ago Monday with just 8,377 being counted through the gates Tuesday, compared to 22,806 on the corresponding day last year.

Wednesday's Pleasanton Day barbecue was cancelled and the Dublin Day luncheon Friday has also been called off The Dublin Community Hour at 2 Friday will definitely be held.

The Fair runs through Sunday with exhibits open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and the carnival remaining open past 10 at the discretion of the Fair management.

Today is Kids' Day, Hayward Day and Ladies Day with banjoist Scotty Plummer debuting tonight in the Amphitheatre. The free shows start at 7 and 9.

Zone chief delays action

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — County zoning administrator Richard Flynn yesterday postponed two requests for variances within the county's agricultural districts near Livermore.

An application by Kenneth Watt to divide a 135-acre plot into two building sites was continued for two weeks, and a request by James Anderson to approve a building site on a 2.12-acre site will be heard in three weeks.

Search warrant leads to five arrests

LIVERMORE — Armed with a narcotics search warrant, police raided a Kinglet Road residence Monday afternoon and arrested five persons ranging in age from 13-25 on marijuana and alcohol related complaints.

Police obtained a search warrant after an investigation into several complaints from parents that their children were associating with persons allegedly supplying them with liquor.

Narcotics officer Dan Killeen and other officers converged on the residence, saw persons inside the house but got no response. They walked into the residence and found three adults and two juveniles seated around a table in the kitchen, on which were beer bottles, two baggies of marijuana, and a water pipe containing marijuana residue.

A search of the house revealed more baggies of marijuana in two bedrooms. Marijuana plants were found growing outside the house and were confiscated, police said.

Two youths, one 13 and the other 17 years old, were arrested and later released to their parents.

Also arrested were Steven Francis Santos, 21, Laurence Richard Nelson, 25, and Jeffrey Anthony Paridiso, 23, all of 506 Kinglet Road. Police are seeking complaints against the three on a variety of charges, they indicated.

Suspect traced, arrested in kidnap case

LIVERMORE — A 33-year-old man sought in the knife slashing and attempted kidnap of two women has been arrested in San Diego and returned to Livermore.

Murphy Lee Gann has been formally charged with two counts of felony kidnap and assault with a deadly weapon, as well as a prior kidnap complaint, the district attorney's office said yesterday.

On June 22, two women agreed to give a ride to a man they had met earlier in a bar who claimed he was too drunk to drive home. When the car reached his destination, the suspect, seated behind the driver, allegedly grabbed the driver around the neck and said, "OK, you're going with me." The woman passenger tried to break his hold and was stabbed with a small knife in the arm.

The driver was cut twice in the throat as she struggled, while the passenger pretended to exit the vehicle. As the suspect got out to stop her from leaving, the women locked the doors and drove off.

The driver received minor cuts on her throat, and the passenger took four stitches for her arm wound.

Detective Jim Serna conducted an intensive investigation and tracked a suspect to San Diego. Local police there arrested the man as he stood in a phone booth near the Mexican border.

Gann is being held on $23,000 preliminary bail.

Santa Rita stabbing suspect charged

PLEASANTON — An inmate of Santa Rita Jail's maximum security cellblock has been charged in the stabbing of a fellow prisoner which occurred last week.

Albert Lucero was formally charged with a single felony count of assault with intent to commit murder, the district attorney's office disclosed yesterday.

Reginald Bernard Butler was stabbed several times while in a recreation room in the barracks one week ago while 25 other inmates looked on. Butler was treated for multiple slash wounds about his body and released from Fairmont Hospital the next day.

The suspect was arrested after questioning of all the prisoners by jail authorities. Spokesmen declined to say if any weapon was found.

City should lower expectations, taxes

PLEASANTON — Besides the two city council factions which argued the budget this year, there was a third camp, represented by citizen Jim Jordan, who wanted to cut the tax rate by 10 or 11 cents.

Jordan's views were in contrast to the council majority of Bob Philcox, Joyce LeClaire and William Herlihy who voted to raise taxes by five cents and the council's minority of Frank Brandes and Ken Mercer who voted against the raise, desiring to hold the line on taxes.

Jordan's more conservative views were rejected by the council as being "unrealistic," but Jordan thinks they are the wave of the future as far as local financing is concerned. He said they are in line with the "lowered expectations" now touted by Governor Brown.

"Cut back the marginal programs, be more efficient in the ones you offer," said Jordan. In general, that sums up his philosophy, though he ran into some extended debate on that subject on park and recreation items where Ken Mercer, a former park and recreation commissioner, questioned him.

Mercer pointed out that most park and recreation programs pay for themselves and even make a profit so they subsidize other park and recreation activities. Fine, said Jordan, but with a curtailed program, you might be able to get rid of some administrators, saving more money.

The whole thing hinges on what people expect. You could bring the street sweeper around a residential neighborhood once a month instead of twice a month and save money without lower service, said Jordan.

Jordan was also told by the council that some of the landscaping he wanted to eliminate in his budget was financed by the state. Some don't see anything wrong with the state financing local landscaping, but Jordan does.

"If we can't afford to pay our own maintenance costs, something is wrong. I will keep asking the council and others, 'Do you want others to pay your bills?' That's what Governor Brown is saying. We have to reassess what we want to do collectively for ourselves," said Jordan.

"Brown is telling us at the top to lower our expectations. Maybe we should start at the grass roots."

Jordan advanced some interesting ideas in his specific proposals for budget cuts. One was the elimination of the entire travel budget for the city council, city manager and city attorney, something which the city council cut by 25 per cent. Doesn't travel to conferences bring money - saving ideas?

"It brings money - spending ideas," said Jordan. Some of the park maintenance fund could be cut. Livermore had success with volunteers cleaning the street medians and Pleasanton could adopt similar plans, said Jordan

The "special services" account in each department also can be eliminated or reduced by hundreds of dollars. It's just a paper clip and paper category and the staff could recycle office supplies, he said.

He would cut the "community promotion" budget in half. "So far, I haven't seen any promotion of the community. The closest thing to it is the KNBR parade." Cut the parking control budget in half — "have them walk" instead of riding motor scooters, said Jordan.

Asked about the effect of cuts on staff morale, Jordan said, "There needs to be a turnaround on keeping morale high in the community as well as at city hall. If the community can't afford to keep morale too high at city hall, too bad. A lot of people are out of work who would love to have a job at city hall. I don't advocate that they tear out their phones; they won't miss the things I propose to eliminate."

Jeep Ziemer of Pleasanton will soon be traveling the country promoting crafts and gathering ideas for future publication — by herself!

UNCOOKED STRAWBERRY JAM. Sort and wash two cups of fully ripe strawberries. Drain. Remove caps and stems. Crush berries. Place prepared berries in a large mixing bowl. Add four cups of sugar, mix well and let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Dissolve one package powdered pectin in one cup water and boil for one minute. Add pectin solution to berry and sugar mixture. Stir for two minutes.

Pour jam into freezer containers or canning jars, leaving one half inch spare at the top. Cover containers and let stand at room temperature for 24 hours or until jam has set.

Makes five or six half pint jars. Store the uncooked jam in your refrigerator or freezer. It can be held up to three weeks in a refrigerator or up to a year in a freezer. Once a container is opened, jam should be stored in the refrigerator and used within a few days.

DILLED GREEN BEANS. Wash and drain four pounds of whole beans; cut into lengths to fill pint jars. Pack beans into seven clean, hot jars. To each pint jar add ¼ teaspoon crushed hot red pepper, ½ teaspoon mustard seed, ½ teaspoon dill seed and one clove garlic.

Combine five cups vinegar, five cups water, and ½ cup salt; heat to boiling. Pour boiling liquid over beans, filling to within one-half inch of top of each jar. Adjust jar lids. Process in boiling water for five minutes (start counting processing time as soon as water in canner returns to boiling). Remove jars and complete seals if necessary. Set jars upright apart, and cool on a wire rack.

Buy surplus fruit direct from farmer

California consumers will be able to buy excess fruits directly from farmers through a program announced by the state Department of Food and Agriculture and Consumer Affairs. It is hoped this move will mean lower prices for consumers and increased sales for farmers.

An information center has been established in Sacramento with a toll-free number. Farmers wishing to sell their fruit directly to consumers may call the number to register the time, location, and terms of selling. Consumers may call to obtain this information for their area and to be directed to the nearest source.

The toll-free number is 1-800-852-7525. It will be staffed seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. until Sept. 20. After 7 p.m. messages will be recorded and calls returned the following day.

This excellent weather has produced an extremely bountiful high-quality fruit crop, according to the chief deputy director of the Department of Food and Agriculture. Current estimates place unsold portions as high as 100,000 tons of cling peaches, 500,000 tons of pears, and 10,000 tons of apricots.

The deputy director pointed out that since this is the largest fruit crop on record, outlets such as retailers and canneries will be full.

The first excess fruit to be targeted in the new program will be apricots, which are already being harvested. Main apricot counties are Contra Costa, Merced, San Benito, San Joaquin, Santa Clara and others. Other fruits will include peaches and pears.

Hobby carried her into publishing

By LILLY AULT

An interest in crafts as a hobby led "Jeep" Ziemer of Pleasanton into the craft business, (Taurus Crafts) and writing books on crafts. Now she is headed into the publishing business.

It was Jeep's writing that led her to contacts which has her becoming a publisher. She will be working with a San Francisco based company for her printing.

According to Jeep, she has several books already lined up for publishing. She will be doing some writing, coordinating and printing herself. At the present time, she will be getting mainly into the crafts field with hopes of expanding into different areas.

Jeep has written and published four books on crafts already and has had a total of one million copies sold throughout the United States and Canada.

The business - orientated lady will be traveling extensively promoting crafts by giving demonstrations on television and traveling to various states demonstrating crafts in top stores.

"This is not only to promote crafts," she says, "but to get an exchange of ideas and playback as to what people's main interests are in the crafts field."

The shop owner's Bicentennial Eagle is her pride and joy, a creation of her own which is now touring the country for others to observe. While attending a craft seminar in Chicago this past year, she was offered $10,000 for her bird, but turned it down. "I'll never sell it," she says.

The successful writer has written a children's craft book in Spanish as well as English for distribution in Mexico.

Although Jeep has never found anything in her life that has been as "challenging, exciting and rewarding" as her craft shop, she feels "this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity" she has walked into and "just can't turn it down."

Her husband who will be following her on the tour, was not "too keen about the idea of extensive traveling," but felt he couldn't hold her back on the opportunity of a new adventure. He has strongly supported her in all her undertakings having worked closely with her in the shop in decorating as well as coming up with ideas.

In the publishing field, she will be offering three plans for publications. First she will offer to strictly write the book, develop it into a finished product and the individual may have it printed.

Plan number two will offer a package deal. A person states the type of book desired and she will do the entire thing — writing, composing and printing.

Plan three would be strictly printing the book. "Basically," she stated, "it's kind of you name it, I'll do it for you."

Her "Taurus Crafts" has not been sold as yet although she has had offers from out-of-town investors. "I prefer and hope," she said, "to find someone locally who is interested in buying the shop. I'm sentimentally attached to the business and would prefer to see it kept in good condition with the local people's interest given first priority."

The 30-year resident of Pleasanton states she hates to give up the shop as the "best months of business are coming up." She feels the shop does well all year round, but "really takes off September through December."

Moving out of the shop does not mean Jeep will be departing from Pleasanton. She plans to have an office here in town.

The crafts person now turned writer - publisher, found her store took her into many different phases, was demanding and kept her on her toes coming up with new ideas, but she is looking forward to similar challenges in her new adventure.

Don Willis, director of the County Fair's Mineral and Gem department, looks on as the $500,000 gold exhibit is secured. The special display features specimens from the Mother Lode country of California.

Half million in gold at fair

Rare and unique specimens of gold in the form of pure nuggets and sheets are part of a $500,000 gold collection now on display in the Mineral and Gem Building at the Alameda County Fair.

Presented by the Bank of America, the exhibition is displayed in a soft - lighted case of impermeable lucite. Thirty-two small plaques describe the composition, origin and estimated value of each type.

Included in the collection, on display from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. through Sunday, is "one of the world's largest" gold nuggets, weighing 84 troy ounces, nearly six inches in diameter!

Another unique specimen is composed of a substantial layer of pure gold "sandwiched" between two layers of quartz.

The display boasts a total of 92 neatly-arranged gold samples.

Also included in the exhibit is a map of California's Mother Lode Country, origin of the specimens. Historic sites are labeled, associating the appropriate '49er day legends and characters.

This special exhibit offers a rare opportunity to experience a major part of California's history, and to appreciate the wealth of the state.

The Mineral and Gem Building is located adjoining the Court of 4 Seasons on the Fairgrounds.

Mystery sludge still puzzles VCSD, consulting engineers

DUBLIN — Efforts to uncover the source of the "mystery million" gallons of effluent that appeared at the Valley Community Services District Sewage Treatment Plant in 1971 have been frustrated by "inadequate metering data, conflicting testimony and sensitivity to legal status," consultants reported this week.

Harris and Associates, Consulting Engineers, issued a preliminary report on Phase A of the plant efficiency study to the VCSD Board of Directors Tuesday night.

Phase B, final report and recommendations, is expected to be completed about Aug. 1.

The consultants noted that the occurence of unexplained flows "is of justifiable concern to both the Board of Directors and the staff."

It acknowledged that limited capacity of existing treatment facilities, demand for additional sewer connections, and litigation regarding availability of sewer capacity "make explanation of these discrepancies imperative."

But the consultants said efforts to uncover the reason for the mystery overflows have been thwarted. They propose a four-part investigation to "resolve past inaccuracies and to begin cooperative efforts necessary to solve the problems of sewage collection, treatment and disposal which now face the entire community:"

●Install portable flow meters at locations throughout the system to monitor sewage flows. Compare the data to a count of structures contributing to the flow to pinpoint areas of apparent excesses.

Sixty per cent of the monitoring has been completed so far, with no major unexplained results discovered.

●Inspection of existing meters, pump stations and cross connections within the system.

Each facility has been inspected to insure the operation is in accord with agreements on installation, and functioning as intended.

●Aerial reconnaissance of entire sewage treatment area to accurately count the structures which contribute to the flow.

●Interview administrative and maintenance personnel to straighten out conflicting testimony about the "mystery million" by those present at the sewage treatment plant at the time of the unexplained increase.

Home arts are not for women only, they say

Alice Ames, a veteran fair competitor, and her husband, Ernest, a novice embroiderer. Her beaded ensemble (at top of picture) was given an honorable mention at county fair, while his shirt embroidered in an original design captured a second-place ribbon !

By JEAN McKENNA

"No one makes fun of Rosie Grier, the 300-pound football player who does needlepoint, so I figured I was safe," declares Bob Bedford of Livermore who began hooking rugs about a year ago.

Bob is just one of a growing number of men who have taken the female bastion of home arts by storm. It's the flip side of Women's Liberation — men are proving they, too, can excel with the needle, the crochet hook or egg whip without compromising their masculinity.

Ernest Ames of Livermore outranked his talented wife, Alice, in county fair competition with his first attempt at original embroidery on a denim shirt. Dick Griffith, also of Livermore, swept the fair category for yeast baked goods with a recipe he discovered in this month's issue of Sunset Magazine.

Being one of the first to hurdle the walls of traditional taboo is not always easy. Bob admits he was really embarrassed in the beginning by his own interest in making rugs.

"I wanted to send my wife to the store to purchase the yarn and other materials for me," he confesses. Now he can take the ribbing from his more conservative co-workers at Sandia Livermore Laboratories in stride, reading perhaps a bit of covert jealousy in their teasing. "They call me the 'happy hooker' but the rugs mean and say a great deal to me."

Looking for more of a challenge after first completing a packaged kit, Bob designed a rug based on the Sandia thunderbird emblem. There followed a whole series of rugs based on government weapons program logos which happily remind Bob of his contribution in the development of telemetry systems over the past 15 years.

"My favorite design is the Poseidon," Bob notes. "It was the most difficult to make because of the narrow lines for the meridians." Bob was at Cape Kennedy for many of the Poseidon flights.

Bob usually uses an overhead projector to produce the rug design, tracing the outline onto burlap stretched and stapled over a frame about three by four feet. Using a special tool, he punches the loops through the burlap, working in small details first. Each rug takes over 17 skeins of yarn and about 30 hours to complete.

Bob, who took up his hobby in order to accomplish something tangible while watching sports on television, has discovered a fringe benefit to his rug-making. His children can identify more closely with his complicated laboratory work at Sandia through his unique rugs. Bob has just completed a rug in a bicentennial flag design to pass on to his grandchildren.

Ernest Ames tried embroidery on a lark, "to find out how easy women have it!" he jokes. A carpenter used to handling the large tools of his trade, Ernest discovered that wielding a tiny needle was more difficult than it looked. Stitching his own design on the front and back yoke of a denim shirt took him months to complete.

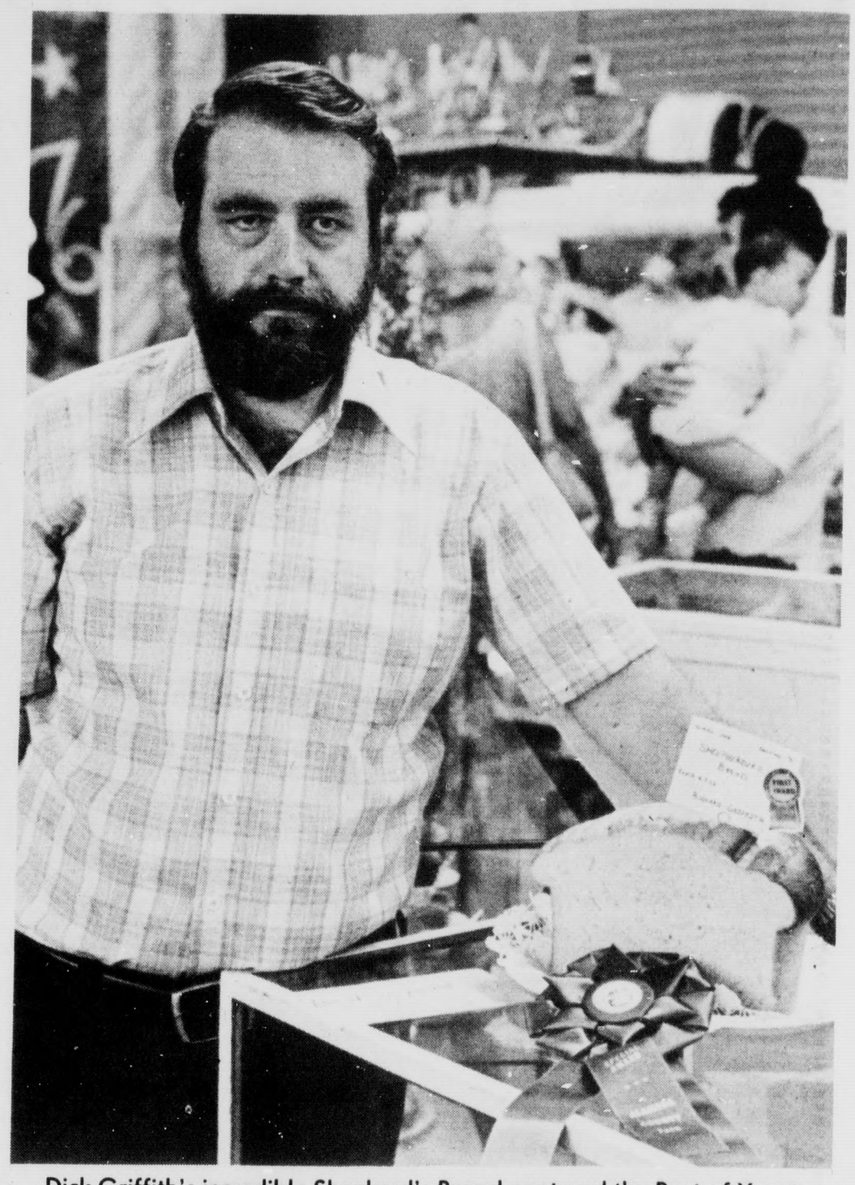
"It's my first and LAST attempt," he declares. "I think I'll try oil painting next." His multi-talented wife, who entered 29 edible and decorative items in the county fair, encourages him to try everything, and he's game.

Dick Griffith picked up his interest in bread baking from a friend in the Air Force who would make huge loaves in the high altitudes of Mexican mountains. His love of good food prompted him to experiment in the kitchen, and now he specializes in Greek recipes that employ grape leaves, as well as in making his own wine.

The cover of Sunset Magazine this month features a Basque shepherd's bread. Dick's version of that bread, which earned him a special ribbon at the county fair, would be eligible for the same honor on a magazine cover. In the words of Home Arts Department Head Dorothy Ross, judges at the Alameda County Fair were "very impressed" with the warm loaf he submitted to their palates.

Dick rose at 5 a.m. to start the loaf he entered in the fair, finishing about 9 o'clock. The recipe calls for nine cups of flour, as well as goodly portions of sugar and butter. The large ball of dough is allowed to rise once, punched down, then allowed to rise a second time in a covered dutch oven before baking.

Dick admits that the trend toward home arts for men must be contagious. His son, Jim, was honorably mentioned at the fair for his batch of cookies.



Dick Griffith's incredible Shepherd's Bread captured the Best of Yeast special award at the county fair from a field of female competitors

Bob Bedford's interest in hooking rugs has taken a decidedly 'male' turn. He creates designs based on government scientific program logos, such as the Poseidon missile pictured above.

Fair favorite is Folklorico

The Ballet Folklorico of Livermore will present a Mexican extravaganza at the Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton at 5 p.m. in the Court of Four Seasons Sunday, July 11. The group of folk dancers under the direction of Carlos Morena has been a fair favorite for many years.

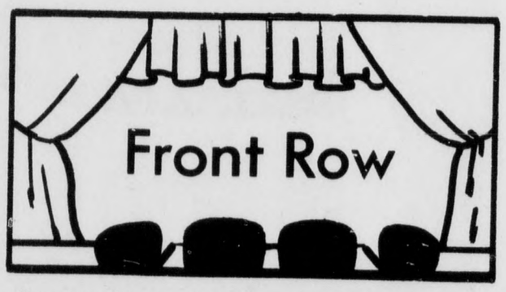
The calendar says mid-summer but it's "the season" to Pleasanton Playhouse members, who are preparing "George M" for an August launching.

For the Civic Arts Repertory Company, its the grand finale. The Walnut Creek - based group rings out with "Of Thee I Sing" this weekend at the civic playhouse on Locust Street in Walnut Creek.

For inveterate theater-goers who like to combine an overnight stay and visit to new areas with stage offerings, we recommend the trip up to Columbia State Park, a few miles above Sonora, to the Fallon House Theater.

There you'll find the University of Pacific Summer Repertory Committee holding forth again. They'll be alternating "Oklahoma," "Once Upon A Mattress," and "Frankenstein" through August.

And while you're in the area, try a trip on the Cannonball Express out of Jamestown — or any of several other afternoon and evening rail buff tours.



One caution, write a couple of weeks in advance for reservations.

We'll be taking in Fallon House's "Mattress" later this summer after first viewing "Of Thee I Sing" Friday night. The musical is directed by Robert Logan and curtains Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30.

For those seeking musical comedy with "name" stars, the trip to Sacramento's Music Circus in downtown Sacto could be well worth the 90-minute ride. Mitzi Gaynor will be in with her one-woman show this week. Each show runs a week with performances Tuesday through Saturday nights.

For Shakespeare devotees, the Oregon Shakespearean Festival is underway in Ashland, Oregon. They're alternating "Much Ado About Nothing," "Henry VI, Part 2," "King Lear," "The Devil's Disciple," and "The Little Foxes" through Sept. 19. Write for tickets, tickets far in advance, though, as weekends are usually SRO.

For film buffs, the current "hot" movies are "Silent Movie," with the irrepressible Mel Brooks, "Ode to Billy Joe," and the "Buffalo Bill and Sitting Bull" starring Paul Newman, Burt Lancaster and Joel Grey."

"Silent Movie" is in fact a silent film — with the exception of one audible word. It's currently playing at the Festival in Hayward and Metro in San Francisco. "Billy Joe" played last week in Dublin. If you missed it you were among the lucky ones.

Not to be missed, though, are the final days of the "name" entertainment at the Fairgrounds Amphitheatre in Pleasanton. Young banjoist Scotty Plummer, Willie Tyler and Lester and the Mugglestons, a family musical group, close out the County Fair stage shows tonight through Sunday.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Honor agreements today, even though your second thoughts indicate you could have done better had you bargained more shrewdly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Render full service for what you're paid to do today. You'll think more of yourself if you resist the impulse to cut corners.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't go against your prudent judgment on risky ventures. Taking foolish chances could lighten your purse considerably.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you do something nice for loved ones today, don't make them feel obligated. They'll resent it if they think you're throwing it up to them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Treat with strictest confidence that which is meant for your ears alone. You could spill the beans if you're not very careful.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Spend any small surplus you've accumulated on your family today. It will be much more appreciated than if you blew it on passing fancies.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't make concessions under pressure. If you think what's being asked is unfair, back off quickly. Stand up for your rights.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be grateful today for gains which come through others. Though these might be less than you anticipated, it's the best they can offer.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Screen carefully propositions presented to you. Certain key parts may be unclear. Don't act until sure of the facts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your insights are sharp today, but your methods leave much to be desired. Try to execute your ideas as cleverly as you conceived them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You know what you want done today, but you may be fuzzy in expressing your views. Concentrate on communicating clearly.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your possibilities for success today look very promising. However, steer clear of people who have no real interest or contribution to make.

Opening lead — Q ♦

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The unlucky expert had us cornered again. A session of duplicate had just ended and our friend had finished second.

Some players are satisfied with a second place finish. He wasn't and had one particular hand to show his bad luck.

It seems that the field had been in four spades. Every West had opened the queen of diamonds and every East but one returned the queen of clubs. After that start it was a simple matter for declarer to take successful finesses in spades and hearts and wind up making six.

Against the unlucky expert, East had led back the seven of hearts.

If ever a lead looked like a singleton, that one was it. Our unfortunate friend decided that he could not afford the luxury of a trump finesse and the almost certain ruff of a heart if the finesse lost. So he wound up making one trick less than anyone else.

Ask the Jacobys

A Wyoming reader wants to know if a player who responds two clubs to his partner's one-heart opening promises another bid.

The answer is that he does not do so in standard American or in the very similar Jacoby modern. But some expert pairs play that the two-over-one response does promise another bid and a very few even play it as a game force.

Phillies, 5-0

NEWARK — Pulling off nine base steals the Pleasanton National Jaycees Phillies took a 5-0 victory over the Niles Centerville White Sox in District 57 senior league action yesterday at Newark High School.

First baseman Mitch Pereia led the way with three thefts and MikeGetty added two. The winners jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning.

Pereia led off with a single and Getty, who led the evenings' hitters with three, followed with a double. An overthrown ball brought Pereia in and Getty went to third.

The Phillies added two more runs in the third stanza. Pereia led off with a walk, Getty followed with a single. Winning pitcher Robin Dijos and third baseman Mike Bowling each struck out but a single by Bob Umland and two walks brought the two runs in.

In the fifth the Phillies brought their last two runs across. Bowling reached first on a error by the first baseman, Bondley singled and right fielder Jim Ford drove in both runners with a booming double to center field. Catcher Jerry Lipich struck out to end the inning but the Phillies had done the damage.

The losers threatened just once, in the fifth stanza but the Phillies' defense came through.

Tom Center and Rob Pater belted a single and double respectively for the losers but Pater was tagged out trying to stretch it to third. Center missed the third base bag and had to go back instead of scoring. That mishap broke the White Sox's back. Dijos threw out center fielder Harold Branch for the final out of the inning to end the threat.

Dijos ended the contest with seven strikeouts and allowed just three hits. He walked six batters but was tough when he had to be.

The Phillies play in the semi-finals at 1 p.m. today at Mission San Jose.

Twins, 7-6

Mike Perez singled home Brad Evengello with what proved to be the winning run as the Newark American Twins nipped Livermore National's Lone Star, 7-6, in a Senior League Tournament of Champions losers bracket contest last night in Pleasanton.

Evengello had doubled, his third hit of the game, before the winning hit.

Newark erupted for six runs on four hits in the third inning, highlighted by Rick Rucket's two-run homer over the markers in left-centerfield. Rucket was robbed of another home run in the fifth inning by a sensational jumping catch by Livermore's Brian Swailes.

Lone Star showed the mark of a good team and battled back, scoring six runs in the next two innings to tie the score. Then, after Newark scored the go-ahead run in the sixth, Livermore loaded the bases but Perez came in to relieve winning pitcher Tony Evenich and retired the side, striking out the last two Livermore batters.

Newark American now advances in TOC competition. It was Livermore National's second loss in the double elimination tournament — by Donald Mann

Unbeaten Dons roll on

SAN LEANDRO — The Pleasanton Dons broke open a 26-26 halftime tie with a torrid third quarter explosion en route to a 73-54 over San Leandro last night in this city's summer basketball league at the Boy's Club.

The Dons outscored the hosts, 24-11, in that period to enter the fourth quarter with a comfortable 50-37 advantage.

The win gives Pleasanton a 4-0 league record, while unusually scrappy San Leandro stayed winless in four tries.

Chris Kearns and Sam Jorgensen shared scoring honors for the winners, canning 14 points apiece. Rick Howard added 12 to the balanced attack.

San Leandro's Bob Brown led the losers with 10 points, after a scoreless first quarter.

In the third quarter, the Dons biggest lead came on Chris DePrater's lay-in with :45 to go. That gave the Dons a healthy 50-34 lead.

Then in the fourth period, the Dons ripped off a 16-2 spurt in the first three and one-half minutes to take an overwhelming 66-39 lead. Sam Jorgensen scored six points during the binge, icing the victory for the Dons.

The win lifted the Dons overall summer record to 10-0 as they are unbeaten in five tries in their own Allied Brokers League after a 49-38 win over San Ramon Tuesday night and own an exhibition win.

In the final Allied Brokers game Tuesday, Martinez never trailed on its way to a 53-44 win over the winless Pleasant Hill Falcons.

Racing still off, no SCF move

Despite the cancellation of the tenth straight day of horse racing at the Alameda County Fair, the fair's board of directors voted unanimously to proceed with the current day-to-day race plans and not relinquish its final two racing days to the Sonoma County Fair.

The decision to hold out for hopes of a settlement in the nearly six week old county workers strike ended hopes representatives of the Santa Rosa event held that their season could be expanded to 14 days.

"If Alameda officials had elected to cancel their final two days, we would have applied to the California Horse Racing Board and the State Division of Fairs and Expositions to open our meeting early," Ignacio Vella, manager of the Sonoma event explained.

He added, "It was their decision and they are their dates. We had no plans to assume them unless they were voluntarily surrendered."

Santa Rosa's own labor problems, with city workers, have been solved and the Sonoma Fair is scheduled to begin racing Monday.

Since the Alameda Fair did not relinquish its racing days, there is some speculation that it will apply to the CHRB for racing dates later in the year.

EER EXPLAINED.

The easy way to figure out how to get the most efficient air conditioner for your money.

We're not encouraging you to buy a new or replacement air conditioner. But if you do, then get a unit that will give you the most cooling with the least electric use. That's an air conditioner with a high EER (Energy Efficiency Ratio). Here's how you determine the EER of a room air conditioner.

EER Simplified: All the information you need is shown on the unit. To get the EER, simply divide the cooling capacity (BTU/hr) by the watts. Like this: 6,000 BTU/hr ÷ 750 watts = 8.0 EER. EER numbers range from 4½ to 12. The higher the EER, the more efficient the air conditioner. PG&E recommends an EER of 7.5 or more for economy in room air conditioners, and an EER of 7 or more for central systems.

EER Simpler Yet: Air conditioner dealers displaying the "We Care" sign have room air conditioners already tagged with the EER rating. So look for the yellow tag and you won't have to do any figuring at all.

What a high EER means to you: A high EER means you're getting the most cooling comfort for your money. Some air conditioners use a lot less electricity than others for the same amount of cooling. A unit with an EER of 8.0, for example, uses 30% less electricity than one with an EER of 5.6. So look for a high EER. You'll cut your cooling costs. And you'll conserve energy, too.

THE ENERGY EFFICIENCY RATIO FOR THIS UNIT IS 8.0 EER

Stiff reaction to PUC gas-ban proposals

The fallout has been heavy from State Public Utilities Commissioner Robert Battinovich's suggestion that the commission may have to ban all new home construction and swimming pool natural gas connections.

But Battinovich didn't mean his statements to sound quite as strong as some of the industry reacted, said recently.

The commission did not say it will ban the hookups, but in Battinovich's view there is a strong need to ask "very serious quesitons on whether we should be ban all natural gas connections."

"It's a question that must be argued back and forth. We don't have all the facts," said Battinovich. "The more important question is: when we do get gas, how expensive will it be?"

Battinovich would like to see a basic lifeline rate, especially for senior citizens whose incomes don't rise to meet the demands posed by inflation.

The luxury items, like perpetually burning gas lamps at restaurants or in front of homes, ought to be charged a higher rate, he said.

The known reserves of natural gas will last another 11 to 12 years at the current rate of population growth and levels of consumption, said the commissioner. So one problem we face as a society is to conserve a gas until alternate sources like geothermal, tidal, solar, and wind power can make their contribuitions, he said. Experimentation in those areas should be encouraged by the PUC, he said.

"I think the building industry needs no more jolts. We want to encourage building because of the unemployement we've had," said Battinovich.

"The natural gas crisis in my opinion is more far reaching than the oil problem. "Gas has a greater impact on the economy. We need to figure out how to have more warm houses and more gas for hot water heating and cooking. Some of the answer will be in housing insulation. And we'll have to figure out how to do without swimming pools, loglighter gas, and such things."

"When I first made the suggestion about studying hookups to swimming pools, people said that I was just doing it to showboat. They said they had a right to hook up to a pool," said Battinovich. "Well, my insurance policies say I can borrow money against them for 5 per cent, too, but now, realistically, it's 8 per cent."

It's not clear how a ban on gas hookups would affect public pools in the valley, assuming the PUC did issue a ban with no exception for public pools.

Pleasanton is planning a deep water pool soon, but probably would beat any ban because construction is scheduled soon. There had been talk about participating in a pool at Foothill High School, but Ann Carroll of the recreation department doubted that would happen in light of the city's current financial status.

At Livermore Area Recreation and and Park District the only pool in the future will be at Robert Livermore Park, but it is "several years" in the future, said recreation Recreation Supervisor Gary Hultberger.

LARPD budgeted money for solar heating for its pool at May Nissen Park, but abandoned the idea when a study by an engineer revealed it to be too costly and inefficient for a public pool.

"We have a vandalism problem and a very large volume of water to heat, but some solar systems are feasible for the private pool owner," said Hultberger.

LARPD has invested in pool covers for the May Nissen tank. There is no solid data yet, but Hultberger estimated they have saved 30 to 50 per cent on heat.

Blackhawk goes back to court

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ — Once again the foes of the proposed Blackhawk Ranch development in Danville have gone to Superior Court to block it.

This time they are challenging the recent action by the Board of Supervisors amending the 3,700 acre balance of the project.

In that action, initiated by Blackhawk's developers, the board approved detachinq 943 acres of the original 4,643-acre development zoned for development in 1974.

This detachment, known as Hidden Oaks subdivision, was rezoned as a seperated planned unit district, leaving the remainder of the ranch in the original PUD.

Plaintiff's in Tuesday's suit include The Sierra Club, Amigos de Diablo, People for Open Space, Sheafe Ewing and Florence Klinger.

Ewing is husband of Alamo resident Sally Ewing, an arch foe of Blackhawk and currently a defendant in a defamation and unfair election campaign practices suit by Blackhawk. Miss Klinger is a prominent Central County conservationist.

Amigos attorney Linda Moody of Diablo is a co-defendant with Mrs. Ewing in the same suit by Blackhawk.

The plaintiffs claim that the Boards action is inconsistent with the county general plan because it does not permit the proposed land uses or density.

Introducing two fun Toyotas that are incredibly functional. The new Corolla Liftback and Corolla Sport Coupe. Both have eye-stopping, sporty good looks inside and out. Both are available in sporty-equipped SR-5 and Deluxe models. They round out Toyota's quality line of Corollas.

Functional fun. We designed the Corolla Liftback to be stylishly sporty looking, and yet it's a practical car with two doors plus a wide rear liftback that opens into a spacious cargo area. Its versatility continues with a unique fold down split rear seat. Fold it all the way down and you've made enough room to hold three carts of groceries. Fold half the split rear seat down and you can carry long awkward loads, and there's still a seat left in the back to carry a passenger.

Economical to operate. The new Corolla SR-5 Liftback and Sport Coupe have a standard 5-speed overdrive transmission to give you great gas mileage and performance. 1976 California EPA tests with 5-speed overdrive transmission, 36 MPG highway, 20 city. These EPA results are estimates. The actual mileage you get will vary, depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment. An automatic transmission is available on Deluxe models.

No-cost extras. Toyota has always been known to give you a long list of extras at no extra cost. The two new Corollas are no exceptions. Every Corolla is equipped with standard features like: reclining bucket seats, power assisted front disc brakes, MacPherson strut front suspension, transistorized ignition, styled steel wheels, and power boosted flo-thru ventilation, all included in the list price.

Toyota stands behind Toyota quality. There are nearly 1,000 authorized Toyota dealers across the U.S. comprising a network of service departments staffed with Toyota trained mechanics. Quality. You got it. The new generation of Corollas. If you can find a better-built small car than a Toyota... buy it!
